PLEASE NOTE: WEATHER CANCELLATIONS POLICY

Every now and then Mother Nature will through us a curve ball and we will need to cancel your class either due to extreme heat, winter storms, or other such weather extremes.

When in doubt that your class may be cancelled due to weather, please check either Facebook or call the main number and if the class is cancelled there will be a message on our voicemail, a post will be placed on our Facebook account, and we will send an email out via our newsletter.

Please note that this missed class will be added on to the end of your session.

HOMEWORK

Our job at the Red Barn is to teach you training methods that you will apply and practice with your dog when you leave. Listen, make notes, ask questions, and PLEASE practice here and at home. You and your dog can't master these skills without doing your homework.
